

HACC Training Calendar 2010 -- updated: 19th July 2010

This is the fourth update of the calendar this year.

Changes since the last update:

Repeated sessions of Introduction to Health Coaching and Assessment & Care Planning

We received many requests to run these two programs again. We have now scheduled each of them again in November and December.

For dates and more details see information on the November and December page.

New DVD from our resource library:

Managing Behaviours of Concern in the Elderly, 28 minutes, produced in Australia, 2010

DVD publisher's introduction:

A high percentage of elderly people in professional care suffer from dementia, a psychiatric illness or a specific brain injury. Recently, extensive research has been undertaken into understanding the origins of behaviours of concern, focusing on addressing the variety of underlying causes. In this program we investigate defining and understanding behaviours of concern, types of behaviours and unmet needs, assessing the problem solving, possible triggers and management strategies. Systematic approaches to the identification of triggers and instigation of problem solving techniques can significantly reduce this increasingly widespread condition.

The DVD will be helpful extra materials for your in-house training or staff meeting.
